Please note:

The applicant's personal details given above are stored for internal purposes and only in connection with this project.

Employees of Deutsche Welle as well as their relatives are excluded from participation in the competition.

In case of discord the English application text is the binding version.

If a contestant's final media product meets Deutsche Welle's (DW) journalistic standards, DW may disseminate it through its broadcasting channels. In such case, DW will conclude a separate license agreement with the participant.

The environmental journalism conference and the advanced-level training will only take place in Jakarta, Indonesia if the Covid-19 pandemic allows. If an on-site conference is possible, DW Akademie will cover the participant's costs for travel, accommodation, catering and their visa expenses. If the pandemic or other adverse conditions make an on-site conference impossible, the event will take place online. In this case, no payments will be made for travel, accommodation, catering or visa expenses.

Please submit the following documents:

- The application form in Indonesian or English (completed, signed and scanned as .pdf file). If you apply as a team, every team member needs to fill out their own application form.
- A story proposal for your mobile report in Indonesian or English (completed and scanned as .pdf file). If you apply as a team, please fill out one story proposal form together.
- A copy of your passport (picture page as .pdf file) or identification card.
- Link with access to video you have produced (in Indonesian or English) uploaded to your Dropbox or Google Drive folder. The video should illustrate basic video reporting skills. If you apply as a team, every team member needs to upload their own video.

If invited to participate in the project, I agree to:
